This data reinforced expectations for a Fed rate cut later this year, as the economy shows resilience while keeping the door open for potential easing.

Today's index is expected to move sideways with a tendency to weaken. Today there is the release of Inflation data for the August period. This morning, the Manufacturing Index data was released, which fell to 48.9 (Prev. 49.3).

JCI closed positive and back to rally. Indicator from stochastic is bearish, MACD histogram is moving positive (line is bullish) and volume is increasing. Bearish scenario: If it moves bearish again, JCI is expected to weaken again to the support range of 7,606 – 7,616. Bullish scenario: If JCI is able to move bullish, JCI has the opportunity strengthen to the resistance range 7,715 – 7,725.

Commodities:

- WTI crude futures declined by 3.1% to settle at $73.5 per barrel on Friday as investors factored in the likelihood of rise in OPEC+ supply starting in October, coupled with diminished hopes for a significant US interest rate cut next month after strong consumer spending data.
- Gold eased toward the $2,500 per ounce mark on Friday, pulling back from the record high close of $2,525 touched earlier in the week amid some pressure from a stronger dollar and higher bond yields after new economic data eased the Fed's urgency to ease monetary restriction.
- Palm Oil increased 257 MYR/MT or 6.91% since the beginning of 2024, according to trading on a contract for difference (CFD) that tracks the benchmark market for this commodity. Historically, Palm Oil reached an all time high of 7268.00 in March of 2022.
