Jakarta Composite Index

JCI closed in positive territory on Wednesday's session, rising 22.05pts / +0.26% to the level of 8,388.57, with a Doji-like candle pattern that once again raises questions about the next move after seemingly getting stuck around the ATH Resistance area of 8,478.

While keeping an eye on that, the advice "set your Trailing Stop" still applies in general, while enjoying this bullish swing which remains relatively safe above the first Support: MA10 around 8,310.

ADVISE: Set your TRAILING STOP, watch sector rotation for trading opportunities.
